Founded in 1912, École normale supérieure Paris-Saclay (ENS Paris-Saclay) is a leading institution for interdisciplinary graduate education and research. It trains future researchers and faculty members, with an emphasis on fundamental issues connected to practical, industrial, technological, economic and social subjects of interest.

Students at ENS Paris-Saclay benefit from personalised tutoring and research-based training that combines theory and practice while encouraging interdisciplinary studies.

The 12 teaching departments and 13 research laboratories offer students the ability to customise their own programme and express their talents.

ENS Paris-Saclay is unique in bringing together a vast array of disciplines which no other higher education institution covers in the same way or at the same level: basic sciences, humanities, social sciences, engineering sciences and design.

Students enrolled at ENS Paris-Saclay are commonly called “Normaliens”.

30km far from Paris

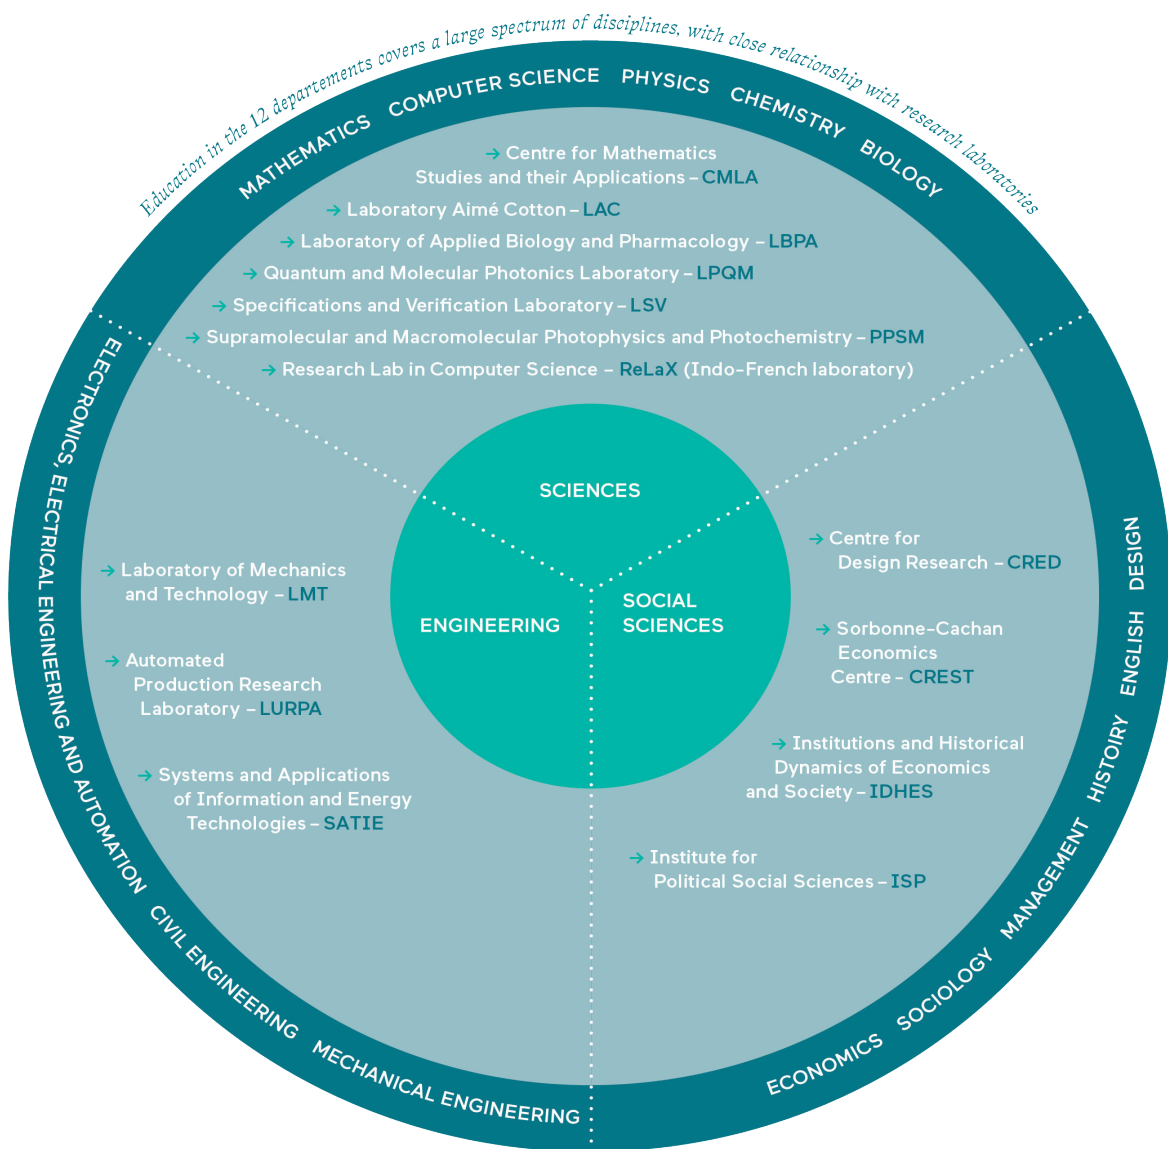

ENS Paris-Saclay will move to the “Plateau de Saclay” in Summer 2019. The building, under construction, will enable us to join the other prestigious members of Université Paris-Saclay (<https://www.universite-paris-saclay.fr/en/university/members>).

The settlement is set in September 2019 for the majority of us but is supposed to last until the beginning of 2020 for specific matters such as heavy machines and departments and laboratories' equipments.

Curriculum

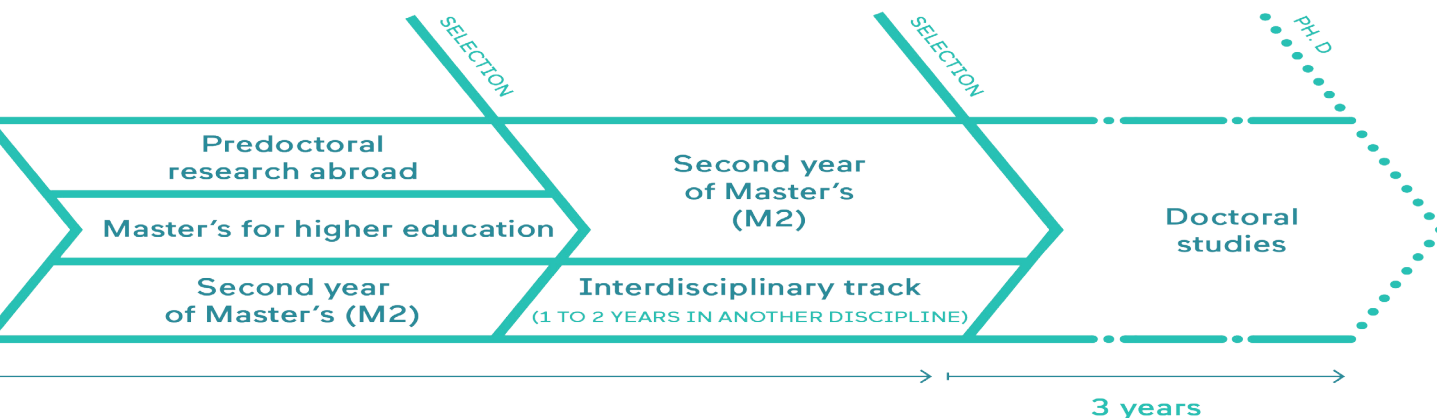

Discipline

The ENS Paris-Saclay Degree is awarded after four years and is equivalent to a master's degree and 75% of normaliens pursue in doctoral studies.

Normalien students receive individual supervision. Through a continuous dialogue with academic staff, they are actively involved in setting their learning agenda and defining the means to achieve it.

PARIS 2024

Here in Paris, we want the Games with a passion.
Games for the athletes.
Games with Parisians; with the people of France, and the world.
Games in the very heart of the city...
That are Games for everyone.
That help to respect people and the planet.
And that inspire us to sport, and support us as we do it.
Breath-taking Games, which bring us together...
And where everyone can share their emotions....
In a city where sharing is a way of life.
Sharing of emotions, ideas and passion.
Sharing to drive progress and innovation.
Sharing to unite us – and to strengthen sport.
A way of seeing things, of living.
A way for young people to make their mark the world.
A way to put the Olympic Spirit into action like never before.
Paris 2024 will be about sharing the best that we have to offer:
Our city, its soul and its passion.
About sharing the spirit of human achievement seen in the Games.
About sharing a vision for a better future.
